PREFACE.

The Act for the Civil Registration of Births, Marriages, and Deaths came into operation on 1st of July, 1837, which superseded for civil purposes the Old Parochial and Non-Parochial Registers. It has been repeatedly urged that the Registers before that date should, for the purposes of preservation, be transcribed and printed. Many old Parish Registers have been printed by private persons and by the Parish Register Societies, and such work is steadily progressing throughout the country, but very few of the old Non-Parochial Registers, which supply much supplementary matter, have as yet been published.

The Parochial Registers of Dudley, which commence in the year 1540, comprise 22 volumes to the year 1812. There is every likelihood of the transcription and publication of those Registers being undertaken by the Parish Register Society.

The Old Non-Parochial Registers of Dudley, here produced, contain over Three Thousand entries of Births, Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, and Burials of Nonconformists from 1656 to 1837.

By way of introduction to each Register I have given a short historical sketch of the Meeting House or Chapel to which the Register formerly belonged.

THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS' MEETING,

HIGH STREET, DUDLEY.

INTRODUCTION.

GEORGE FOX, the originator of the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, was born at Drayton, in Leicestershire, in 1624. About 1646 he left off attending church for divine worship. His first efforts at proselytism were made in or near Manchester in 1647 or 1648. He afterwards travelled through various parts of the Midland Counties. His followers were first contemptuously called "Quakers," at Derby in 1650 by Justice Bennet. The passing of the Act of Uniformity in 1662, and the Conventicle Acts, instead of stamping out Nonconformity, considerably increased it. The Quakers gloried in their sufferings, and were so resolute as to assemble openly, soldiers and other officials dragging them off to prison. It is recorded that on the 2nd May, 1665, four Friends of Dudley were seized by one Major Wilde and a troop of horsemen, and taken to Worcester gaol, kept there thirteen days till the Assizes and Sessions were over, and then committed to the common gaol for three months without any trial or even being brought into open Court. At the expiration of their time of imprisonment, these Friends were brought into open Court and fined 12d each, and then dismissed. The heinous crime with which they had been charged was "that they would not take an oath." In 1673 Fox himself was imprisoned for some time in Worcester gaol. Eventually the Act of Toleration was passed in 1689. Fox died in London in 1691.

It was on the first day of the sixth month (August) of 1674 that Robert Nayle, for £10, sold to the Friends a piece of land 33 feet long and 23 feet wide, with a footway through other land of the said Robert Nayle from it to High Street, in Dudley. It was to be held for such purposes as "the members of the Society of Friends assembled in Quarterly or Monthly Meeting shall direct." On the twentieth day of the third month (May), 1676, the trustees bought of the same Robert Nayle, for £85, a house in High Street, Dudley, with a garden and newly-erected cottage at the lower end of the back side. On the twenty-third day of the fourth month (April) 1794, the property was leased for forty years to Thomas Martin in consideration of an outlay of £700 on the Meeting House and adjacent premises.

The earliest entry in the registers is the birth of Thomas, son of Henry Fidoe, on the 12th day of the 8th month (October), 1656. The volume from which the 457 entries are taken is with other non-parochial registers in the custody of the Registrar-General at Somerset House, London, the reference number being 1184, and the description: Marriages, 1662—1774; Births, 1656—1801; Burials, 1662—1827. The volume consists of some 40 leaves, is 15 inches long and 6 inches broad, and strongly bound in vellum, internal evidence seems to point to the fact that it originally contained other matter. Inserted on the front cover is a piece of older vellum, on which is written "H. Dudley." The leaves have been carefully mended. The entries do not seem always to have been made at the time of the events recorded, and are occasionally somewhat confusing, but so far as possible their order is here preserved. Some of the entries are very faded. The spelling of the names, &c., is retained. The marriage contracts, 1662—1706, are with slight verbal alterations the same as the two specimens given which have annexed the greatest number of witnesses' names. From the prominence given to these two, and the extra care seemingly bestowed upon their copying by the clerk, it may not unreasonably be supposed, that these were marriages of the most important members of the Dudley Friends and that the names of the witnesses are those of the persons connected with the Society.

As this is the only Non-parochial Register of Dudley containing entries of marriages, some explanation of such marriages, outside the Church of England, and in a Dissenters' place of meeting is considered necessary.

Before the Marriage Act of 1754, a marriage by sufficient words of present espousal constituted a binding marriage, though not celebrated in facie ecclesie. At the common law the presence of a priest in holy orders was essential. The Quakers were however bold enough to ignore the Church even in the rites of marriage. The Marriage Act of 1754 was passed to put an end to irregular marriages and required certain forms, such as banns or licence, to be adopted and made it compulsory that marriages should be solemnized in the Church of England. The marriages amongst Quakers or Jews, where both parties were Quakers or Jews, were expressly excepted from that Act. The Act of 10 and 11 Vic., c. 58, removed doubts which existed as to the validity of the marriages amongst Quakers and Jews solemnized before 1st July, 1837, according to their usage, by enacting that such marriages "were and are good in law," provided both parties were Quakers or Jews respectively.

The dates prior to 1752 are according to the old style. The year formerly commenced on 25th March, and not, as according to the new style, the 1st of January. The first month was then March.

The Society of Friends are particularly careful in causing notices to be sent to their Monthly and Quarterly meetings of all births, marriages, and burials of or connected with the members of their community.

The following are the forms of their registers and notices:—

The Society of Friends disapprove of tombstones, monuments, inscriptions, &c., and many old ones were removed in consequence of an Advice in 1727 for that purpose.

The monthly meeting of Warwickshire North comprised Birmingham, Dudley, Stourbridge, &c., and it may be that there are entries in those registers of the births, marriages, and burials of some of the Dudley Friends. The registers of this monthly meeting at Somerset House with the reference numbers are:—

THE OLD MEETING HOUSE,

WOLVERHAMPTON STREET, DUDLEY.

INTRODUCTION.

THE Old Meeting Congregation legally known as "Protestant Dissenters" were originally Presbyterians but are now Unitarians and can be traced back to the year 1662 when something like 2,000 ministers were ejected throughout England from the Church of England, chiefly by the Act of Uniformity of that year. The first chapel was erected in 1702 and was destroyed by rioters in 1715. It was rebuilt in 1717. The transition from old Presbyterianism to Unitarianism was apparently brought about by reason of the trust deed being one of the open kind "for the worship of God" and the progressive change of thought. The Rev George Eyre Evans (author of VESTIGES OF PROTESTANT DISSENT) in his coming work on "MIDLAND CHURCHES" being the histories of all the Congregations now on the roll of the Midland Christian Union and in which this congregation is included has devoted especial attention to the history of this Meeting House. It will contain biographies of the ministers with numerous fac simile autographs, particulars of the buildings, of the now extinct but important Dudley Double Lecture, of Baylies' and Parsons' Schools, extracted from early prints and Government documents, of the Inhedge Burial Ground and the Dudley Book Society. Mr Eyre Evans having submitted to me his valuable manuscript for perusal and revision it would be an ungracious act on my part to narrate here what he has written and intends for publication. His work will probably be in the hands of the public during the current year (1899).

Next to the most interesting Quakers', or more properly Friends' Register, which began in 1656, those of the Old Meeting are the oldest of the local Non-Parochial records. The original registers were deposited by the Rev. John Palmer, B.A., with the Registrar-General, and are now at Somerset House. They comprise two volumes. No. I. includes baptisms for the period 1743 to 1772, and is a thin square volume bound in vellum, and contains mainly entries by the Rev. James Hancox, who was minister from 1733 to 1769, he being the fourth after the beginning of the congregation. His predecessors were the Revs. John Southwell, William Willetts, and Joseph Stokes. Register No. II. is an octavo volume, bound in vellum, and contains entries of births and baptisms from 1775 to 1837, and burials from 1831 to 1835. This period covers the ministries of the Revs. Wm. Denny Wood, 1771 to 1804; James Hews Bransby, 1805 to 1828; Samuel Bache, 1829 to 1832; and John Palmer, B.A.

Before the registers were sent to public custody a transcript was taken of them by the foresight of Mr Palmer, and from this transcript now in the keeping of the trustees of the Old Meeting House, the entries have been taken. The original registers have been carefully examined by Mr Eyre Evans in connection with his work on "Midland Churches."

In addition to the Registers at Somerset House, the trustees have in their keeping a book containing deaths and burials from 1811. The entries from this book to the year 1837 will be found at the end of the other registers of this meeting. Those names which appear in the register lodged with the Registrar-General are not repeated in the additional list.

END OF THE REGISTERS OF THE OLD MEETING HOUSE.

THE OLD INDEPENDENT CHAPEL, KING STREET,
DUDLEY. 1840.

THE INDEPENDENT CHAPEL,

KING STREET, DUDLEY.

INTRODUCTION.

THE Register Book of this Congregation is No 11 of the Worcestershire Non-Parochial Registers at Somerset House, and is a bound brown leather volume, 14 inches by 9 inches, and contains about 260 entries of births and baptisms from 1803 to 1837. The Rev. James Dawson was the minister when it was deposited, pursuant to the Act of Parliament, with the Registration Commissioners. The date of the foundation of the denomination is given as 1788. The Countess of Huntingdon's students and ministers laboured for a considerable time prior to 1788 in a dwelling-house in King Street. The first chapel was erected in 1788 by her Ladyship's Connexion, and by a deed dated 22nd April, 1788, and made between George Creighton, of Dudley, linen draper, of the first part, Wm. Hughes, of Dudley, baker and maltster, of the second part, the Right Honourable Selina, Countess of Huntingdon, of the third part, and the Rev William Jones, of Dudley, of the fourth part, a piece of land, part of Anthony's Meadow, was conveyed to, and vested in, the Countess, together with the Meeting House erected thereon, to be held for the purposes of the Countess' Connexion but so that no tower or steeple should be put on the meeting house. In consequence of the insufficiency of supplies and other reasons, the Countess' cause, it would seem, did not prosper in Dudley. About this time there was a serious religious disagreement amongst the Protestant Dissenters of the Old Meeting House in Wolverhampton Street, and in consequence thereof, many persons seceded from that congregation and acquired the chapel in King Street, and transformed it into a Congregational or Independent Church. By a deed dated the 4th day of December, 1788, and made between the Right Honourable Selina, Countess of Huntingdon of the one part, and the Rev William Taylor, clerk; William Penn, glass merchant; Edward Davies, ironmonger; Joseph Johnson, baker; Thomas Hateley, gentleman; George Jones, builder; William Hartel, cordwainer; Benjamin Vanes, ironmonger; Joseph Underhill, the elder, hinge maker; Henry Blews, gentleman; Samuel Hammond, of Birmingham, gentleman; William Whiley, gentleman; George Macmillan, button maker; Thomas Sidaway, ironmonger; Joseph Edwards, carpenter; Samuel Loynes, buckle maker; John Cardale, gentleman; John Skidmore, mercer; Joseph Linney, mercer; and Samuel Edge, potter of the other part, the Meeting House was conveyed by the Countess to the persons mentioned as trustees for the purposes of the Independent cause. The Chapel then stood on what is now the burial ground nearer to New Mill Street. There was no settled minister for some years, the chapel being supplied by occasional ministers from the district. In 1801, Mr James Dawson came as a minister on probation and on June 1st, 1803, he was ordained to the pastoral office and the following certificate was granted to him.

This is to certify that our brother, the Rev James Dawson, was regularly set apart to the Pastoral office in the Church of Christ, meeting, in King Street, Dudley, in the County of Worcester, on the 1st day of June, 1803.—J. Brewer, Birmingham; J. Moody, Warwick; Obh. Bennett; William Williams, Birmingham; John Hudson, West Bromwich; Thomas Chipperfield, Stretton; S. Hanwell; B. Eaton.

Although additions were made to the old Chapel in 1809, 1815, 1819, and 1824 the place was too small to accommodate its congregation, and after much deliberation it was decided to erect a new chapel upon a large scale, and on the 21st May, 1839, the foundation stone was laid for the present edifice on an adjoining piece of land to the old chapel. The present chapel, erected at a cost of something like £3,500, with 1,200 sittings was opened for Divine worship in 1841, under the pastorate of the Rev. James Dawson. This minister died December 23rd, 1843, aged 65, after labouring for over forty years as minister of this congregation. A monument in the chapel records his death and excellency. In 1820 the only old trustees surviving were Joseph Underhill, the elder, of Dudley, hingemaker; and Samuel Hammond, of Birmingham, gentleman; and by deed dated 26th May, 1820, they vested the chapel property in the following new trustees:—James Wood, glass manufacturer; John Wilson, mercer; James Grigg, confectioner; George Wheldon, maltster; William Whitehouse, carrier; John Whitehouse, carrier; Bate Phillips Penn, druggist; James Rogers, watchmaker; William Mainwaring, ground bailiff; all of Dudley; Joseph Underhill, the younger, of Wolverhampton, ironmonger; Thomas Heathcote, of Gornal, minister; John Hall, of Gornal, nail factor; Thomas Maurice, of Kingswinford, gentleman; George Brain, of Tipton, maltster; Thomas Hateley Hawkes, of West Bromwich, gentleman; Thomas Rogers, of Wednesbury, watchmaker; Rice Harris, of Birmingham, glass manufacturer; and Daniel Bagnall, coal master. New trustees were again appointed in 1862. In Mr Dawson's succession in the pastorate have been—the Revs. John Raven, 1844-1848 (born February 14th, 1806, died March 7th, 1875); Daniel Kirkby Shoebornham, 1849-1862 (born August 5th, 1805, died January 14th, 1885); Thomas Wickham Tozer, 1863; George Wade Robinson 1868—1871 (born September 10th, 1833, died January 23rd, 1877); Frederic Mann 1871; J. M. Fox, 1876; James Hannay Valentine, 1882; and Benjamin Byron Williams, 1887. The present minister Rev Albert Matthias Gardner, began his ministry on July 10th, 1892.

One of the requirements of the Civil Registration of Births (1837) that the maiden surname of the mother of the child registered should be given, seems to have been anticipated by the recorder of the births and baptisms of this congregation, inasmuch, as in many instances the maiden surname of the mother of the child appears in parentheses or brackets in the register.

There is no entry in the Burial Register in the possession of the present trustees of this congregation prior to 1840.

END OF THE REGISTER OF THE INDEPENDENT CHAPEL.

THE WESLEYAN METHODIST CHAPEL, KING STREET, DUDLEY.

INTRODUCTION.

THE two volumes from which the entries of births and baptisms relating to this denomination are taken also contain baptisms of Oldbury and other places. They are, with other non-parochial registers, in the custody of the Registrar-General at Somerset House, the reference number being 14 of the Worcestershire registers. No. I is a book with vellum back and corners, 7 inches by 8 inches, and contains entries of births and baptisms from 1804 to 1824 with one of 1796. The entries are not in chronological order. No. II. is bound in rough leather and measures 8½ inches by 13 inches, and contains entries of births and baptisms from 1824 to 1837 on printed forms. The date of the foundation of the denomination is given as 1788.

The chapel, a fine brick edifice, forming a centre with two projecting wings used as residences, was erected between 1788 and 1790. Considerable additions and alterations have been made to it since its erection, particularly in 1818, when the inscription stone—was placed in the front gable of the chapel. The chapel contains about 850 sittings.

Methodist Chapel,

The chapel buildings were erected on a piece of land containing 954 square yards (part of the Churchfield Estate), fronting to Back Lane (now called King Street) in Dudley. This piece of land was purchased by Joseph Moore, of Dudley, cordwainer, for £53 11s 4d, as appears by a deed dated 2nd April, 1787, made between John Finch, of Dudley, Esquire, of the first part; John Scott, of Stourbridge, clothier, and Thomas Lee, the younger, of Dudley, gentleman, of the second part; William Laughler, of Dudley, iron-monger, of the third part; Joseph Moore, of the fourth part, and Joseph Jewkes, of Dudley, coal bailiff (a trustee for Joseph Moore), of the fifth part; and by a subsequent deed, dated 31st July, 1788, made between Joseph Moore and Joseph Jewkes, of the first part; Squire Knight, of Dudley, cordwainer, of the second part, and John Leadbetter, dealer; Richard Southall, yeoman; Aaron Timmins, white-smith; William Griffin, weaver, all of Dudley; Timothy Tilley, of Rowley Regis, farmer; William Southall, of Dudley, nailer; Wilfred Colley, of Birmingham, coal merchant; Robert Hughes, of Birmingham, clerk; James Winn, of Wolverhampton, cooper; John Negus, of Wednesbury, farmer; Edward Cooper, of Wednesbury, baker; and John Bate, of Dudley, cordwainer, the land was conveyed to and vested in, the parties named of the third part, upon trust to erect a preaching house thereon, to be used in accordance with a deed poll executed by John Wesley and enrolled in Chancery in 1784. The deed of 31st July, 1788, was duly enrolled in Chancery on 12th November, 1788, and so commenced the Wesleyan Methodist cause in King Street, Dudley.

By deeds dated 15th and 16th October, 1810, Aaron Timmins, William Griffin, Timothy Tilley, William Southall, Wilfred Colley, James Winn, Edward Cooper, and John Bate (as surviving trustees, mentioned in the deed of 1788) with Squire Knight, appointed the following new or additional trustees, Benjamin Leadbetter, gentleman; Alexander Gordon, wine merchant; Joseph Stinson, grocer; Aaron Knight, druggist; Samuel Dunn, grocer; William Story, glass manufacturer; Samuel Hollis, glass-maker; Joseph Timmins, fire-iron maker, and Samuel Diggory, pattern maker, all of Dudley, of the piece of land comprised in the deed of 1788, with the chapel or preaching house, and the two messuages or dwelling-houses adjoining each end thereof, and all other buildings erected thereon. The description of the premises in these deeds clearly points to the fact that the main buildings, as they now stand, were certainly erected prior to October, 1810, and not in 1818, as the stone inscription referred to would seem to imply. The same description of the premises is given in the deeds appointing new or additional trustees dated 13th and 14th June, 1824, which were made between William Griffin, weaver; and Samuel Dunn, grocer, both of Dudley of the first part, Benjamin Leadbetter, gentleman; Alexander Gordon, wine merchant; Joseph Stinson, grocer; and Joseph Timmins, fire-iron maker of the second part, and Thomas Lester, pork merchant; George England, maltster; Timothy Tilley, currier; William Shedden, draper; David Clarke, miner; George Neath, miner; George Bailey, dealer in provisions; Luke Jewkes, gentleman; and William Izod, tailor, all of Dudley of the third part.

The next appointment of trustees of the chapel is of some importance, as it bears the signatures of John Bagnall and Thomas Bagnall, the great ironmasters of West Bromwich, and of George Benjamin Thorneycroft, the ironmaster of Wolverhampton, whose respective descendants are now classed with the county families of the kingdom. The appointment was effected by deeds dated 4th and 5th April, 1836, made between Benjamin Leadbetter, of Dudley, gentleman; Alexander Gordon, late of Sedgley, wine and spirit merchant; Joseph Stinson, late of Dudley, grocer, but then of Ravensitch in the parish of Oldswinford, potter; Thomas Lester, of Dudley, pork merchant; Timothy Tilley, of Dudley, currier; William Shedden, of Dudley, gentleman; George Neath, of Dudley, miner; Luke Jewkes, of Dudley, gentleman, and William Izod, of Dudley, tailor, of the first part; Joseph Timmins, of Dudley, fire-iron maker; George England, of Dudley, maltster; Geo. Bailey, the elder, of Dudley, dealer in provisions, of the second part, and John Bagnall, of the parish of West Bromwich, ironmaster; Thomas Bagnall of Golds Hill, West Bromwich, ironmaster; George Benjamin Thorneycroft, of Wolverhampton, ironmaster; James Hartley, of Smethwick, glass manufacturer; John Hartley, of Smethwick, plate glass manufacturer; John Bytheway, the elder, of Dudley, cordwainer; George Bailey, the younger, of Dudley, maltster; Boaz Bloomer, of Holly Hall, Dudley, nail ironmonger; Thomas Morris, of Tipton, coal master; Isaiah Dixon, of Tipton, plumber and glazier; Thomas Cox, of Tipton, builder; Samuel Round, of Tipton, maltster; and Thomas Davies, of Golds Hill, West Bromwich, timber merchant, of the third part.

These were the trustees of this chapel when the Act for the civil registration of births, marriages and deaths came into operation in 1837.

New appointments of trustees were again made in 1847, 1864, 1885 and 1894.

The Dudley Circuit, which is now in the Birmingham and Shrewsbury district, was called the Wolverhampton Circuit to 1793. Wolverhampton was in the Dudley Circuit from 1794 to 1803. In 1804 Wolverhampton was separated from the Dudley Circuit. In 1823 the Stourbridge Circuit, and in 1859 the Oldbury and Tipton Circuits were formed out of the Dudley Circuit.

END OF THE REGISTERS OF THE WESLEYAN METHODIST CHAPEL.

THE BAPTIST CHAPEL,

NEW STREET, DUDLEY.

INTRODUCTION.

IN the return of the Registrar-General the date of the foundation of this denomination is given as 1766. Its register book of births and deaths was lodged with the Registration Commissioners during the ministry of the Rev. William Rogers, the present reference being No. 12 of the Worcestershire Registers. The volume contains 155 entries (128 births and 27 deaths), and is bound in brown leather, and measures 13 inches by 8 inches. Although the register is described as containing entries of births 1816 to 1837, and deaths 1814 to 1837, it appears the actual registration of births did not commence until 2nd September, 1824, on which day several entries were made.

The chapel is at the corner of New Street and Tower Street, and was first erected in 1778. New side galleries were erected in the chapel in 1828, and the place was then first lighted with gas. The chapel was considerably enlarged in 1838 at the cost of £700, and in 1880 further improvements and alterations were made. The early documents of this place are missing, hence its early history is lost. The trustees would be grateful for information as to these documents, and be pleased to have them restored. Persons professing the tenets of the Baptists were resident in Dudley long before the date given as the foundation of the denomination. There are entries in the Parish Registers of Dudley that Mary Parsons, described as an Anabaptist, was baptized in the Church of St. Thomas on 29th December, 1730, and that Sarah Finch, also described as an Anabaptist, was baptized in the same church on 26th May, 1732.

The chapel minute book (still in use) was commenced in June, 1809, and records the events of the congregation from that time to the present. The cause prior to 1809, it would seem, suffered many vicissitudes, but in that year was resuscitated, as appears by the first entry in its minute book, which is well worth recording, not only as showing the names of the revivalists, but the good work which they undertook.

June, 1809.

We, whose names are hereunder written, being previously baptized upon a profession of faith in and love to Jesus Christ and maintaining the doctrines of three equal persons and co-eternal in the God-head, eternal and personal election, original sin, particular redemption, free justification by the righteousness of Christ, efficacious grace in regeneration, and the final perseverance of all true believers, being desirous to unite ourselves together as a Church of Jesus Christ, in order that we may enjoy the ordinances of Christ and strengthen each others hands in the things of God and religion. Do hereby in the name, fear, and as in the presence of the most high God, to whom we must shortly give an account, agree to unite together as a church of the Living God, in order that as the Lord shall assist we may watch over, instruct, reprove, and admonish one another in the Lord, in all and every part of our conduct so behave ourselves as becometh the followers of our Lord, Jesus Christ, Amen.

Until the year 1813—with the exception of a few months in 1811, when Mr Thomas Weston was minister—the cause was without a pastor. The earnest letter of the deacons and members entreating the Rev. John Hutchings to become their pastor, deserves to be reproduced, and is here recorded.

January 21, 1813.

REV. JOHN HUTCHINGS.

Dear Sir,—For several years we have been in a very declining state in consequence of the peculiar situation in which we have been placed, having been like sheep without a shepherd; but notwithstanding all the trials and difficulties which we have experienced in our forlorn situation we have still been enabled to keep together, and have constantly as well as earnestly besought the great Head of the Church that He would be pleased to send us a pastor that would feed us abundantly with the bread that never perisheth. After a lapse of time we represented our situation to Mr Thomas Smith, who very kindly offered to undertake for us and to make every enquiry relating thereto, according to the utmost of his ability, and it is through his means in the providence of God that you have come amongst us for a few Sabbaths for the purpose of preaching the unsearchable riches of Christ, and we have no doubt that should you continue as our Pastor that the Lord would bless His word to our mutual edification and comfort, and that His cause would flourish here again. It is with sentiment of joy that we hail the happy period. We, therefore, the deacons and members of this Church, do most earnestly intreat you to accept of this our invitation, praying the Father of Mercies that he will be pleased to grant that you may come in the fulness of the gospel of peace. We have only to add that it shall be our constant endeavour to render your situation as comfortable as possibly we can. Wishing that you may dayly experience more of the mind that was in Christ, and that your labours both in publick and in private may be abundantly blessed. We remain, dear sir, yours in the bonds of the gospel.”

[Signed by Deacons and Members.]

On 24th March, 1813, Mr Hutchings and family removed to Dudley, and he undertook the pastoral care of the church, being on 30th September, 1813, publicly set apart over the Baptist Church at Dudley as their pastor. On this occasion the Rev. — Draper commenced the service by reading and prayer, the Rev. J. Birt, of Plymouth, delivered the introductory address and asked the usual questions, the charge was made by the Rev. John Palmer, of Shrewsbury, from Rev. ii. chap., 10th verse, “Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee the crown of life,” the sermon to the people was preached by the Rev. Thomas Roberts, of Bristol, Heb., xiii. chap., 17th verse, “For they watch for souls.”

The cause prospered under the pastorate of Mr Hutchings, and in July, 1822, Mr Charles Hardcastle was appointed assistant minister. Mr Hardcastle left Dudley in 1825, and removed to the Baptist Church in Waterford, Ireland. On 3rd March, 1826, Mr William Rogers, then at Monmouth, was invited to become assistant minister to Mr Hutchings and to succeed him in the pastoral office and on the 18th May, 1826, Mr Rogers and his family came to Dudley and on the following Sabbath commenced his labours. Mr Hutchings died 8th December, 1833, and was buried in the Meeting House. There is a tablet erected in the chapel with the following inscriptions:—“In memory of Mary, wife of John Hutchings, pastor of this church, who died 27th October, 1817, aged 68. Also John Hutchings, pastor of this church more than 20 years, during which time he recovered an endowment for the support of the minister for ever. He died December 8th, 1833, aged 77. A sinner saved by grace.” On 9th January, 1834, the Rev William Rogers formally accepted the pastoral office in succession to Mr Hutchings, and held the same until 3rd May, 1858, when in consequence of his advanced years he resigned. There are two tablets in the chapel recording the deaths of Mr and Mrs Rogers with the following inscriptions:—“Sacred to the memory of Rachael, wife of William Rogers, minister of this place, who died 26th October, 1826, in the 36th year of her age.” “In memory of the Rev William Rogers, who for 32 years was pastor of this church, he died January 27th, 1867, aged 77.”

Mr Roger’s successor was the Rev David Evans, who came from Newtown (Mont.) in October, 1858, and resigned in September, 1868, and removed to Newport (Mon). The Rev (?) Alfred Major held the pastoral office from March, 1869, to 1872. The Rev. George McMichael, B.A., who came from Bourton-on-the-Water, undertook the pastorate in May, 1873, and in consequence of ill-health resigned in 1888. He died at Malvern 7th January, 1899, aged 69. Mr McMichael was succeeded in the pastorate by the Rev James Young Jones, of Llanelly, who held that office from October, 1889, to July, 1892, when he left Dudley to take charge of the church at Pontardulais. The present pastor, Rev Edward Milnes, commenced his ministry 1st January, 1893.

As before stated, the early documents of the chapel are missing, so that in 1841 a new Trust was created by Mr Thomas Ragland (who as its senior deacon had been in possession of the chapel since the year 1826), and the then minister, the Rev William Rogers. This was effected by a deed dated the 10th April, 1841, and made between Thomas Ragland, of Dudley, cordwainer, of the first part; the Rev William Rogers, of Dudley, Dissenting minister, of the second part; and Humphrey Mitton, whitesmith; George Corbett, gentleman; Edward Moss Mitton, whitesmith; John Westwood, accountant; Joseph Knight, engineer; Joseph Windsor, the younger, coach spring maker; and Joseph Brookes, builder, all of Dudley; Ebenezer Rogers, of Newport (Mon.), chemist; William Morgan, gentleman; Alfred Lawden, goldsmith; Caleb Lawden, gun manufacturer; William Middlemore, sadler; John Carter, machinist; James Blackburn, banker’s clerk; and William Jenkins, iron merchant and alderman, all of Birmingham, of the fifth part, whereby the piece of land situate at the corner of the New Street and Tower Street in Dudley with the chapel or meeting house and erections thereon, became vested in the parties to the same deed as trustees at all times thereafter, to permit the chapel to be used as a place of public religious worship and instruction, and for services and institutions connected therewith by the Society or Church of Particular or Calvinistic Baptists at Dudley holding the doctrines as then commonly acknowledged by that denomination of Protestant Dissenters, and by such persons as should thereafter be united to the said church and attend divine worship in the said meeting house and to permit the vestry rooms and other erections to be used with and be appendant to the said meeting-house. This trust deed was inrolled in the Court of Chancery on 22nd September, 1841.

In 1888 two only of these trustees were living, therefore on 31st January, 1888, the following trustees were nominated in renewal of the chapel trust, under the provisions of Sir Samuel Morton Peto's Act:—

William Morgan and Edward Moss Mitton, both of Birmingham, as old continuing trustees, and Isaac Bradley, Henry Ogden Adams, Thomas Adams, Edward Moss Mitton, the younger, all of Birmingham; Albert Joseph Allbut, of Worcester; William Rogers, of Birmingham; Joseph Skemp, of Bilston; Walter Blackburn, of Wednesbury; Albert Edward Greenway, of Coseley; G. Garratt, of ; John Granger Smith, of Coseley; Charles Henry Palethorpe, Joshua Davies, Ebenezer Hutchings, the younger, and Walter Palethorpe, all of Dudley.

In many instances the name of the parent or maiden surname of the mother of the person registered is given in brackets in the register.

END OF THE REGISTER OF THE BAPTIST CHAPEL.

WESLEY CHAPEL (METHODIST NEW CONNEXION),
WOLVERHAMPTON STREET, DUDLEY.

INTRODUCTION.

THE volume from which these entries are taken is, with other non-parochial registers, in the custody of the Registrar-General at Somerset House, London, the reference number being 15 of the Worcestershire registers. It is a thin book with marbled cardboard sides and red leather back and corners, and measures $8\frac{1}{2}$ in. by $10\frac{1}{2}$ in. It was evidently kept by the sexton for the time being, is much dirtied and thumbed, and in very many instances the entries are either illiterate or most difficult to decipher, especially in the cases of infants. The entries consist solely of about 723 burials from 1829 to 1837. The date of the foundation of the denomination is given as 1829.

This commodious place of worship, situate in Wolverhampton Street, standing well back from the street, with a spacious burial ground is known as Wesley Chapel. It was erected in the years 1828 and 1829 by the Wesleyan Methodists at a cost of £4,100, viz., cost of land £1,000, and cost of building £3,100. The sum of £850 was raised and paid by them, leaving the sum of £3,250 owing on account of the chapel. The first stone of the chapel was laid on the 10th June, 1828, by Rev Robert Newton, and the opening services were conducted by Rev Jabez Bunting on 16th August, 1829. In 1835 the chapel (subject to the last-mentioned debt) was transferred to the Methodist New Connexion body, and in 1844 it was legally conveyed according to the Model deed to trustees for the purposes of that cause, when £400 was given by the Conference on condition that the congregation raised the further sum of £600, which was accomplished, thereby reducing the debt to £2,250. This debt in the year 1863 stood at £2,000. In 1866 the chapel was considerably enlarged and beautified at the expense of more than £2,000.

In 1887 there was formed a new Trust of the joint properties of the chapel and school. In 1898 the only liability on the estate was £250, and means were then taken to clear off that debt and raise funds to renovate the chapel.
